

When the Farmer Has to Plow

There comes a time on every farm when work must be done at once if it is to be done at all. It may be plowing, cultivating, harvesting, or housing of the crops. When conditions are right the work must be started and pushed with all possible speed if the farm is to pay a maximum return that season.

Under such conditions the man on the job has no time to go to town, even to get necessary supplies, and no one on the place can be spared for that purpose.

Some times it is necessary to send in for food, seed, or machinery, but for his requirements of petroleum products, the farmer knows that he will be supplied by the dark green tank wagon of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) which calls at his home as regularly, though not as often, as does the man who brings his mail.

He has learned that he can depend upon this delivery service, and that the Standard Oil man will deliver his kerosene, gasoline and lubricating oil not only to his door, but, if needs be, in the tractor in the field—there are 150,000 tractors in the Middle West.

This is the reason for the harmonious, close, friendly relations which always has existed between the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) and the farmers of the Middle West. Also this is another reason why the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) takes pride in its position as a public servant, doing an exacting job as well as it knows how, to the distinct advantage of the man who raises the crops, and the millions who eat them.

GOVERNOR WILL FLY TO FAIR

With Governor Frederick D. Gardner, the guest of honor, flying by airplane from Jefferson City to Sedalia on Monday, August 11, to take part in the exercises at the State Fair on "Governor's Day", the event will doubtless go down in State Fair history as one of the biggest ever. The Governor has consented to make the flight, and will be carried by the air route from the Mansion in Jefferson City to the infield of the race track on the Fair grounds at Sedalia. He will make the Governor's Day address from the wings of the plane immediately after his arrival.

Monday, August 11, is not only Governor's Day at the State Fair, but Editors' Day, Soldiers' and Sailors' Day, and Children's Day. Special parades and reviews are to be held as a part of the afternoon program; and a company of machine gunners will give a special drill. All men in uniform will be admitted free Monday only. This means that "Big Monday", as the day is called, will probably set a high attendance record. Entertainment features include an auto race program and a race between George Clark in an automobile and Louis Gertson in an airplane. "The Battle of St. Michel", a spectacular sham battle and fireworks display, will be given Monday night and every night thereafter during the week.

August 9-16 are the dates of the Fair. Tuesday is Trades Union Day and Sedalia and Pettis County Day. All stores in Sedalia will close for the event. Wednesday is St. Louis Day. Thursday is Farmers' Day. The first tractor plowing demonstration is to be held Thursday morning, and the second, Friday. Friday is Kansas City Day. Saturday, August 16, the closing day, is Automobile Day. Horse races are to be held every afternoon, except Monday and Saturday. The big Night Show takes place every night all week.

Reduced rates to and from Sedalia for the Fair are offered by all railroads. Special trains will be run from all directions on the M. K. & T. and Missouri Pacific every day of Fair Week. "White City", the Fair's free camping park is available for the use of all who want to come and camp. The automobile roads were never in better condition for traveling to the Fair by motor.

MISSOURI CANNOT CARE FOR OPPRESSED CHICAGO BLACKS

Jefferson City, Mo., Aug. 3.—Acting Gov. Wallace Crossley today wired a newspaper of Chicago that Missouri is unable to take care of any of the negroes desiring to leave that city following the race riots. The message was sent in reply to a query as to how many of the negroes Missouri would be able to absorb.

In his reply Crossley said: "We congratulate the negroes on their desire to get back where they belong, and regret that your great city, with its wonderful opportunities and boasted recognition of many creeds and colors, has not been able to protect the black race. Missouri has already absorbed several thousand Illinois negroes as the result of a former race war in East St. Louis, and with our own industrial and political problems to solve we are not able at this time to provide a refuge or asylum or employment for Chicago's oppressed negroes."

An Old Fault Finder

An irritable and fault finding disposition is often caused by indigestion. A man with good digestion and bowels that act regularly is usually good natured. When troubled with indigestion or constipation take Chamberlain's Tablets. They strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. They also cause a gentle movement of the bowels. Obtainable everywhere. (adv.)

FARMERS, ATTENTION!

I have again secured the agency for the famous Read Phosphate Co. fertilizers and while I am in Colorado my business will be handled by W. E. Matkin and C. B. Denman. The Read fertilizers have given entire satisfaction. The prices for the coming year are very attractive.

Thanking you for your past patronage and asking that you give it to these men, I am,

STAGGERING COST OF WAR TO BE BURDEN FOR MANY YEARS

The debts of war! They will hang heavy over the people of this old earth for many a long day to come. The treasure that has gone into the fighting of the Great War is well nigh incalculable. When it is even estimated it makes the imagination reel under the impact of its figures.

That the money debt is the least of these debts is manifest. There are greater debts than those that can be counted in dollars and cents, in francs, lire and pounds sterling. Debts of gratitude, debts of appreciation are hard to pay. Some way the principal always seems to outrun even the interest that can be paid.

The greatest debt of these is that we owe the "maimed body" and the "bewildered brain" of the men who were wounded, gassed, shell-shocked and driven to the verge of insanity, even over that verge, by the battles that were fought for us. To the maimed and the nameless graves of the Flanders and the Argonne, the Champagne and the Picardy fields we can only acknowledge the indebtedness that free men everywhere must forever feel.

But there are things that we can do, that we can do with our money and with our services. We can help the stricken lands of the world as we would like to be helped should such a catastrophe befall America. When we have made it possible for the orchards to bloom again in Picardy, for the spindles to turn again in Lille, and the miners to go back to their work in Lens; when we have given them the shelterless in Northern France and Belgium and have brought something like order out of War's desolation, we will have a right to feel that we have accomplished something. After we have placed these men back at their desks, or back in their fields, or at their benches where they may take care of themselves and feel that they are indeed and in truth, men again, we will have paid a little of the much that we owe.

After we have given into the hands of the government the funds that are necessary to start public works, to send ships down to the sea that trade may be stimulated, to bring back the men who have fought our overseas battles, home again, why then we can feel that we have made some little start toward taking care of such debts that can be paid in money and in services.

For all of these vast requirements the Government needs vast sums of money. During the war the Liberty Loans were floated and billions of dollars, needed to win the war, were subscribed. But more is needed. The Government anticipated this and evolved the War Savings plan. The people who wanted to save, but who possessed small means, were considered. Then the $5 War Savings Stamp was put on the market. This was the original "baby bond." It cost the holder $4, and the interest, 4 per cent, compounded quarterly, brought its value up during a five-year period to $5. Hundreds of millions were raised through these $5 War Savings Stamps.

Now a new issue is available. The new issue comprises Certificates for $100 and $1,000. These possess all the advantages of the $5 Stamp, but do away with the necessity of sticking stamps to the certificates, and offer an ideal investment for one who can buy the larger denominations.

All of the reconstruction plans must be carried out to the end if America is to prosper and remain at peace. To simply let things drift, to permit the country to bring about its own blind and undirected readjustments will end in confusion and trouble, in unrest and lost efficiency. The aim of every American should be to see to it that all the nation gets back on the basis of work and opportunity for everybody just as soon as possible.

The Best Physic

When you want a pleasant physic try Chamberlain's Tablets. They are easy to take and mild and gentle in effect. They are highly prized by people who have become acquainted with their good qualities. They only cost a quarter. Obtainable everywhere.

The other day

A fellow came into our office And he said I wish that I had done Like Jim Brown did— He bought a lot, Jim did, and He built himself a little home The first year. And he planned it so he could Build more onto his home The next year And he did, and Now he's got a fine big home Worth a lot of money And he owns it And it's his. And I Came to town about The same time Jim did And I rented a house Like a lot of other fellows And the landlord sold the house And I had to move And I did And I rented another house And the landlord sold that And I had to move again And all I got now is Some rent receipts And I've got to move again Ain't that the limit?

THE NEED FOR THRIFT

The United States Federal Reserve Board is impressed with the immediate needs for more saving among the people, in the economic conditions which confront the world today. The Board recently had this to say:

"The reaction resulting from the close of the war has unquestionably tended to increase the disposition of individuals to buy and spend with comparatively little regard for the eventual results of their action. Possibly the most important immediate outcome of this condition of affairs is the overstimulation of retail trade in luxuries and the relative retardation of business in basic commodities and materials for manufacture."

In other words the Reserve Board wants the American people to save first and think before they spend.

The world is confronted with a unique financial condition. It is more pressing in the United States than elsewhere. Europe is demanding credit in this country for the purchase of goods, materials and labor, with which to rebuild its devastated regions and to rehabilitate its stricken industries. This country has already extended vast credits to Europe. The Federal Reserve Board has estimated that new European demands amounting to nearly $3,000,000,000 must be cared for during the coming year.

To extend any such vast credit as this, the capital must be forthcoming. Europe may spend most of these billions here, but our industries and commerce cannot be maintained on credit alone. While they are waiting for Europe to produce enough actual capital to pay its bills here, they must have capital on which to live.

Capital can only come from savings. Our financial leaders are agreed that only from the savings of America can we supply the tremendous sums in actual cash which must be forthcoming if our industry and commerce is to be maintained in full time operation, and if prosperity is to be continued in this country. Every individual must assume the responsibility for saving and for careful spending. This is one of the reasons behind the government's continued offer of Savings securities to the people. Investment in Thrift Stamps, Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates means the accumulation of capital in America that is vitally needed.

LABOR WITHDRAWS SIGNATURES

The State Federation of Labor is taking steps to have all members of organized labor withdraw signature to referendum petitions against the Workmen's Compensation law, on the ground that the fight against the new law is directed by damage suit lawyers. Many voters signed the petitions under misrepresentations and many affixed their signatures believing they were signing a remonstrance against a ten-cent street car fare in Kansas City and St. Louis. The law is a fair one for laborer and employer.

Keep Clean

Keep clean inside, as well as outside. Do not allow food poisons to accumulate in your bowels. Headache, a sign of self-poisoning, will point to numerous other troubles which are sure to follow. Keep yourself well, as thousands of others do, by taking, when needed, a dose or two of the old, reliable, vegetable, family liver medicine,
